QUARTERLY/NEWSLETTER EXTRACTIONS

Eastern Illinois University IRAD Moving to New Location

The Illinois Regional Archives Depository at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston, Illinois, will be moving to a new location while its former home, Booth Library, undergoes a major renovation. The renovation is expected to take about two years. Reference services will not be interrupted during the move, but researchers planning to visit the depository are advised to call the EIU depository (217/581-6093) or the IRAD office in Springfield (217/785-1266) before doing so. IL State Gen. Society Newsletter, Vol. 20 #4, July/August 1999.

Immigration Center to Open in 2000

The American Family Immigration History Center will open in the year 2000, and will make information on the more than 17 million who immigrated through the port of New York from 1892 to 1924 available on computer.

Enlisting an army of volunteers, the Family History Department of the LDS Church has been pouring through passenger records and ships' manifests from Ellis Island and entering names into a computer database. Since the project began in 1993, approximately 2 million volunteer hours have been logged. Without this volunteer help, said Lee Iacocca, the project would never have been possible. When finished in 2000, a simple push of a button will lead visitors to a multimedia presentation. Family Tree Volume IX, No. 3

GENEALOGY SEMINARS/CONFERENCES

Four C's of Genealogy

Lake County (IL) Genealogical Society and College of Lake County are presenting this workshop on Census, Computer, Collateral Lines & Church. The workshop will be held at the College of Lake County, 19351 W. Washington St., Grayslake, IL 60030 from 8 to 4 p.m. on Saturday, November 13, 1999. Cost is $24 for members/$28 for all others. ## KVGS WEB NEWS

Genealogy in Time Magazine

The April 19, 1999, Time Magazine featured a genealogical article "How to Search for Your Roots". The articles can be viewed at Time's Website at <http://www.tim.com>. Select "Magazine Archives" from the homepage and choose the April 19 issue to reach the online version of the magazine. Illinois State Gen. Society Newsletter, Vol. 20 #3, May/June 1999.

Illinois WWII Casualties Index

The American Local History Network, Illinois Chapter, has a link to a County Index of Illinois World War II Casualties. The Website is at <http://usgennet.org/~alhnilus//index.html>. By selecting the link labeled "Illinois' WW2 Missing and Dead - Army and Air Force Personnel" one may access a list of Illinois counties and link to the data. Illinois State Gen. Society Newsletter, Vol. 20 #3, May/June 1999.

City Directories Online

Primary Source Media has launched a new site with City Directories online. Currently, there are directories for 99 cities for the year 1859, with plans to add more cities periodically. The database offers full-text search ability using any word or string of words - last name, address, occupation, cultural or business institution - and you can search across the entire database or on a single directory. You can view the facsimile pages of each directory page, providing convenience, speed and authenticity. Although most of the cities can only be viewed by subscribers, Primary Source Media is offering free searches for Atlanta, Chicago, Galveston, New York City, Philadelphia, and Sacramento. Visit the PSM website at: <http://www.citydirectories.psmmedia.com>. McHenry County IL Connection, Jan/Mar. 1999.

1881 KANKAKEE COUNTY DEATHS

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette (publication date in parentheses).

(16 Jun 1881) In St. Anne, June 5, of small pox, Edna Thyfault, aged 5 months.

(30 Jun 1881) In Rockville, April 29, Miss Mary Rouse, aged 19 years.

(14 Jul 1881) In Yellowhead, June 26, Nancy M., wife of Richard Morrison, aged 40 years.

(14 Jul 1881) In Grant Park, July 2, Eddie, infant son of Floyd and Emma Keeney, aged one year and ten months.

(14 Jul 1881) The body of Patrick Dillon, whose sad death in a field was recorded last week by the Gazette, was taken up last Friday at the request of Mrs. Dillion, the wife of the deceased, who resides at Avon, Fulton county, Ill., and after being embalmed by Undertaker Boysen was shipped to his late home. Dillon was a patient at the hospital, as said last week, and was a man of ordinary health and strength. The hospital people think he undoubtedly died of sunstroke.

(14 Jul 1881) Our community and the friends of St. Viateur's college, in Bourbonnais village, are saddened by the sudden taking of one of their number, Rev. Father Richard H. Conway, professor of theology in the college as well as a priest in charge of a mission in Sumner township. Father Conway returned to the college last Monday evening after having ridden sixteen miles in the face of the burning afternoon sun. He complained of the heat and of feeling badly. At an early hour he retired to his room for the night. In the morning he was discovered lying across his cot with arms outstretched dressed in his ordinary clothing and blood oozing from eyes, nose and mouth. The kerosene lamp was found upon the floor, having been providentially extinguished and thus prevented a fearful conflagration. The deceased was either stricken with apoplexy or died in a spasm caused by overheating. Father Conway was 30 years old, a young man of full habit and fine physique, a scholar of first-class attainments and a gentlemen of refinement and sociability. His mother lives in a suburb of Cincinnati and the sad news of her son's death was at once communicated by telegraph.

(21 Jul 1881) The fatal summons - Mrs. B. W. Rives - the sudden death of this estimable woman last Monday afternoon was a severe shock to her friends and a terrible blow to her family. We learn that on Monday morning her husband left her in her usual health, their last communication being his response to her cheerful inquiry as to what she should prepare for dinner. Just before noon she was stricken down with total paralysis and consciousness had almost left her when her husband reached her side. She died about four o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Rives is thus deprived of a helpful companion and a mother to his two adopted children, while the church of which she has been a member and the community in which she has lived will truly mourn her departure. Mrs. Rives was well-known as a woman of high Christian courage, combined with a clear conception of the spiritual as well as worldly duties of a Christian, and her home was a place of calm enjoyment to her family. Her age was about 50 years.

(21 Jul 1881) The death of Algy Dean, on Sunday last, removed one of the early settlers. Mr. Dean was born in Ohio, in 1816. His family removed to Vigo county, Ind., when Algy was but an infant. In 1855 he came to Kankakee and was prominently identified with the business interests of the place for a good many years. In connection with Isaac Dickson and David Perry, he operated the grist mill which was afterward removed to its present location in this city. He and his partner, Mr. Dickson, built the three-story brick building on the corner lot where Knecht's block now is, and also built the stone warehouse on Court street. About fifteen years ago he ran for mayor and was elected over James McGrew by two majority. His life on the Wabash was full of interesting experiences. He and his brother Isaac were among the largest farmers in that section. They boated their crops to New Orleans, using the first 100-foot boats on the river. It is said that in this business he made and lost two fortunes. Mr. Dean was taken sick about three weeks ago, we understand. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of J. K. Eagle, his son-in-law, Dr. Axtell conducting the services. His daughter, Mrs. A. E. Davis, of Minneapolis, was present besides his other children, Mrs. Eagle and Hazard Dean.

(28 Jul 1881) In Sumner, July 9, of sunstroke. Wm. Zatlar, aged 33 years.

(28 Jul 1881) In Kankakee, July 19, of consumption, Anna E. Hovey, aged 27 years.

(04 Aug 1881) In Yellowhead, July 21, of cholera infantum, August Miller, aged 5 months and 18 days.

(04 Aug 1881) In this city July 31, of cholera infantum, after an illness of a few hours, Thomas Burchard Wheeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Wheeler, aged 5 months and 24 days.

(04 Aug 1881) Catherine, wife of Herbert Sibley, died Friday morning July 22, in Chicago, leaving a child one week old. Services were held at their house on Emerald avenue, Chicago, and the remains were brought by the bereaved husband and friends to Kankakee for interment. They took a last view of the remains at the residence of Wm. G. Swannell. She was buried in the family lot in the cemetery here. Rev. D. S. Philips reading the prayers for the dead at the grave. There were many floral tributes of love placed upon the casket.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Wheeler have been afflicted by the death of their infant son, six months old. The little one was taken ill on Sunday morning with cholera infantum, and peacefully closed its eyes in death at eleven o'clock Sunday night. These little ones are frail flowers at the best, and all that the tenderest love and the most diligent care can suggest is oftentimes powerless to stay the hand of remorseless death. Our sympathies are freely extended to the bereaved parents, and the best consolation we can offer is the suggestion that their babe has been mercifully spared from the sorrows and bufferings of a selfish world. Parents feel woefully afflicted in the rude sundering of the threads which bind their darlings to them, but there is left to them the comforting thought that the loves ones are "at rest". The funeral services at the house on Monday afternoon at four o'clock were largely attended. Dr. Axtell and Rev. Mr. Dye made short addresses, and a quartet consisting of Miss Carrie Leavitt, Miss Jennie Hamilton and Messrs. Troup and Cross sang two or three beautiful songs. The floral tributes were numerous and handsome, and attested the sympathy of the donors for the parents in their affliction. A long line of carriages accompanied the family to the spot where the baby was laid away.

Mrs. S. H. Shingle was on the sick list last week. Is recovering.

Mr. Wm. Johnston and family were in town visiting friends one day last week.

Mrs. Ferry, of Peoria, was here also.

THE TELEPHONE EXCHANGE

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, July 14, 1881.

The number of phones now connected with the exchange is 48. This is a larger number than many expected so soon after the completion of the lines. The enterprise is highly satisfactory to its patrons, and many could not be prevailed upon to abandon it for many times the amount of the expense.

Miss May Dixon will be placed in charge of the central office during the day on the first of next month. George Heyerman will continue as night man.

Manager Walter Hatch has effected an improved side connection to the switch board of the central office which will enable a party of ten or any number below ten to place themselves in communication at one time and for as long a period as they desire. The advantage of this can be realized by church trustees, committees, families and groups of friends. Business of ordinary character can be transacted in this way as readily as though all the persons were assembled at one place.

EAST OTTO - 1881

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, June 30, 1881.

Dannie Havens is again on the mend.

The schools of Misses Blainey and Havens held a union picnic on last Saturday. A good time was enjoyed.

Miss Bertha Coombs closed her school on last Thursday with a picnic.

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, July 7, 1881.

Mr. Howe, father of Jonas Howe, of this town, died at his residence in Chebanse on yesterday morning.

THE PIONEERS - 1881

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, July 7, 1881.

Lorenzo Legg came to the county in 1837, settled at Bourbonnais, then the only settlement of importance in the valley. Thomas Durham and Noel Vasseur were living there at that time.

Robert Stearman, of Momence, came to Iroquois county in spring of 1839; is 76 years old; settled on Iroquois river near Bunkum (now Iroquois). There he found a few pioneers. Up to 1845 they all had hard times and lived scantily. The season of 1844 was the wettest he ever saw. Prior to that year they did their milling at Dirge's, two miles below Lafayette; after that they went to Wilmington - a four days' trip. In the summer of '44 they were compelled to grind their grain in coffee mills or pound it. He ground six bushels of wheat in this way during the summer. Would grind enough before breakfast to last until the next morning. His wife took a piece of book muslin and tied it over a box and their flour was bolted through that; made their bread in the way for three months. The people in those days made their calculations on having the fever and ague every fall.

Robert Hawkins of Limestone, and his brother Jephtha came to the county in June, 1834, from Vermilion county. As an illustration of the scarcity of culinary utensils he said that he made a trough out of a log to mix their bread in. Their kitchen ware consisted of a skillet and a coffee pot. Their fare consisted of bread, pork, tea and coffee. Elijah Thompson was their nearest neighbor, living in a clearing where the Graves & Loomis farm now is. Thos. Hatton lived down the river two or three miles. Remembered that the old Bourbonnais built a log cabin on the river bank on the site of John F. Kleine's present residence in the city of Kankakee. Noel Vasseur and Dominique Bray moved into the neighborhood the summer after ('35) and Henry Buche the year following. In 1837 he raised a good crop of corn, but under disadvantages. His harnesses and plow would to-day be worth about $2. He said Illinois wouldn't have been settled without hickory bark which the pioneers used in lieu of leather. He used hickory bark for lines and buried the lines every night to keep them moist and pliable.

Case Wadley, of Aroma, came in 1833. Came to Cincinnati 1817, and to Indianapolis in 1822 when there were not more than twenty houses in the latter place. The main street of Indianapolis was then full of stumps. The authorities passed an ordinance that every time a man got drunk he should dig out a stump. It wasn't long before the stumps were all gone. Came to Bunkum in 1834; opened a farm for old Bourbonnais at Bourbonnais grove, and also helped to break 100 acres for Francis Bourbonnais, Jr., whose house was between the present location of Judge Starr's residence and the First M.E. church. The well is there now. There was an Indian burying ground on the present site of the court house and another on the river bank at the mouth of Soldier creek. In 1835 he located a claim on Rock creek at Bloom's grove and planted ten acres of corn. His nearest neighbor was six miles away, at Bourbonnais point. The ten acres of corn turned out splendidly, and the Indians guarded it and prevented their ponies from eating it. He found the Indians better neighbors than some white people he had known. In 1836 he held a pre-emption on a section of land where the Kankakee flax buildings now stand.

Antoine Marcotte, of Bourbonnais, came to county in 1839. Hauled his crops to Chicago, a five or six days' trip. Camped out every night on the journey, and so had no trouble to pay his bills in the morning. Usually these trips netted about $7, but once he came out 25 cents short. Had to buy all the household supplies in Chicago. The Bourbonnais church was built about forty years ago.

Mrs. Johnson Mann, of Rockville, came to Rockville May 16, 1840, with a family numbering twenty-two. Lived in a house 18x26, one story high. There was more peace in that house then than there is in the whole town now! They had plenty to eat and were perfectly happy. In July following her father built a log cabin. The door was a sheet, with a big chest behind it to keep the wolves from coming in and eating up their provisions. She frequently walked to the postoffice (four miles) and back in the forenoon. She taught school in Kankakee with her sister in 1856.

Isaac Baker, of Aroma, was brought to the county in 1832 by his father William when less than a year old. The family located on the Ohio house place. His first school teacher was Stella Ann Johnson who married Pinkney Maybie; and the school house was located on Todd's knoll. Had heard his father tell how he used to take the plow to be repaired to Hickory creek where John Lane had a blacksmith shop.

H. S. Bloom, of Kankakee, father's family moved to Rock creek in the spring of 1838. Noel Vasseur, Billy Rantz, Uncle Sammy Davis and Dr. Todd were then living in that section. The first voting place was at the Ohio house, and their first milling was done at Green's Mills, at the mouth of Fox river, a week's journey. Got their supplies from the Wabash country. His father sold their first wheat crop in Chicago to David A. Gage for $1.05, but he had himself sold wheat after that for 45 cents, and pork for $1.50 per hundred. Believed the Hawkinses built the first frame barn in that neighborhood. On one occasion was obliged to go to Bourbonnais point, six miles, to borrow fire - that was before the days of matches. The old Shawwannassee Indian village was located just north of Tim Dickenson's present farm in Rockville. The first stage road through Kankakee was laid out by Cornelius Horn and David Bloom.

Volney Dickey, of Yellowhead, came with his father in 1835 and settled in his present home. He could recall many of the shifts which people were put to in the early days similar to those mentioned by preceding speakers. His folks then lived in a log cabin, 16x18, one story high. They had one bedstead and a home-made trundle bed. There was hardly room to turn around, but had known thirteen persons to sleep there at one time. And the first cook stove that he knew of in that section was brought in by Ira Strait, and all the neighbors went to see it. Eight or ten acres of corn, five or six acres of wheat and a few potatoes were all that they could raise in one year then, with only one horse and two yoke of oxen.

Case Wadley told how Gar creek came to be so called. He and James Mix, the latter then a smooth-faced boy, went out fishing in a canoe. Going up the creek they found the gar-fish so thick that they killed them with the paddle. Mix then suggested that the stream be called Gar creek, and it has been so designated ever since.

Mr. Wadley said he believed Soldier creek obtained its name from an old Indian named Soldier whose name was previously given to a burying ground at the mouth of the creek. Mr. Bloom had always heard that Soldier creek was so called from the death and burial at the mouth of the creek of a soldier who was returning from the Blackhawk war.

Who the old settlers are:

Mrs. Matthews, from Nettle creek, near Morris, is visiting here sister, Mrs. William Blair.

They have a girl at "Al." Martin's; it's a baby.

The school in the Frink district, Miss Amy Trescott, teacher, had a picnic in Pilot Grove on Friday last. But few outside the school attended. Lemonade, nuts, candy, etc., were furnished, and of course the children enjoyed it.

ESSEX - 1881

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, June 23, 1881.

The Biglow Bros., who went to Northern Nebraska last spring are highly pleased with all the country.

I.G. McLane has had his house repainted, and has ornamented his barn with lightning rods; and in addition has had three large brass balls put on them. It resembles a pawn-broker's establishment.

Miss Lavina Gronso came home from Jacksonville last week. She has finished her school term. She graduated at the close of the last term. She is looking hale and hearty.

Taken from and the Kankakee Gazette, August 4, 1881.

Alice Brophy, of Essex, and Michael O'Marra, of Grundy county, put on the matrimonial harness on the 27th inst. They have our best wishes.

School in district No. 9 closed this week - Samuel McLane, teacher.

Mrs. Pflingsten has returned from Kansas. She says they are terrible dry.

Mrs. B. Hocking's youngest child was buried yesterday. We have not learned the cause of its death.

David Sinnott bought what is known as the Lawless farm (40 acres) a few days ago, for which he paid $1400 in cash. He now has 240 acres. He began 12 years ago with about $400.

MARRIAGE OF FANNY ENOS & JOHN LYDECKER - 1881

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, June 30, 1881.

And the marriage of Miss Fanny Enos, daughter of R. H. Enos, one of our solid farmers, and John Lydecker, of Grenola, Elk county, Kansas, was an event which possessed great interest for the large circle of the young lady's friends, and also for the considerable number of our young people who remember John as a former resident of Kankakee. And the ceremony, which took place last Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mr. Enos, just outside of the city limits, was performed by Rev. D. S. Phillips, of St. Paul's church, in and the presence of the family and a few intimate friends. And the newly-wedded pair took the evening train for Chicago and points North whence they will return in a week or so and proceed to Kansas to reside.

And the bride and groom were members of the first high school graduating class in this city in 1872. Since that time Miss Enos has been a teacher in the public schools and John has successfully practiced law in Peoria. For and the past five years, however, he has devoted himself to the stock business in Indian Territory and Kansas, and is at present the proprietor of a ranch and a large herd in the latter State. And the good wishes of the Gazette, which had and the pleasure nine years ago of chronicling their successful debut as graduates, and which now takes additional pleasure in noticing their advent into the closer relation of a live-championship, are heartily extended.

WAIFS (LOCAL NEWS) - 1881

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, June 16, 1881.

H. K. Wheeler has bought the vacant lots on the corner north of Mrs. Plant's with a view to building a residence upon them.

Chas. Wolf, of Chebanse, was fined $5 and costs, the whole aggregating $17, for running his horse at full speed through Court street last Saturday and being drunk and disorderly.

The barn of A. Faucher, at Momence, was struck by lightning one night last week, and all its contents, consisting of three horses, harness, carriage and seventy bushels of oats, were consumed in the fire which ensued. The loss was about $900, with no insurance.

Howes Bros. have put a new milk carton their route. It is a two-wheeled vehicle, drawn by one horse. The milk cans are stowed away in closets at each side of and the cart. The design is something entirely new for this business. The painter has made and the cart very attractive.

Taken from and the Kankakee Gazette, July 28, 1881.

A new school house is built in Rockville, on section 7.

Church Todd is out again with his arm in splints and looking pretty well battered up. About three weeks ago he was thrown from a buggy by a frightened horse on the high fill near Esquire Durfee's. The locality is a dangerous one and it has long been, by local editors, an anticipated source of many a good local item.

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, August 4, 1881.

Lawson Hatch has taken Fred Whitmore's place in Hatch's grocery as bookkeeper and clerk. Lawson is one of our best and most reliable young men, and Mr. Hatch is fortunate in obtaining his services.

HAWKINS CEMETERY - 1881

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, June 23, 1881.

About forty teams and as many persons met at this cemetery two weeks ago for the purpose of clearing out a part of the trees, and cutting the grass and hazel brush. A vast amount of work was done and it is a different looking yard. A greater wrong has been done at this yard than in the Kankakee cemetery. If it were only taking flowers from loved ones' graves we would not complain, but here they have taken the tombstones. Who can this be? Clark Hawkins' and Murette Hawkins' headstones are missing; they have been replaced by their sister, Mrs. F. H. Cooley. This is a beautiful yard, and more has been done this spring and summer to beautify it than has been done in quite a number of years. A number of new slabs and monuments are being erected. Among them we notice a very fine one bearing the name of Mr. Weicks. A Kankakee dealer is now at work upon a large monument for the late Herbert M. Cowles, to be placed in this cemetery. It would be well if persons living in Kankakee having friends buried at this years would visit it and do what they can to improve its looks.

REDDICK - 1881

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, June 16, 1881.

L. W. Jordon, our station agent, has gone to Gibson on a visit.

Dr. Green's new horse is a fine driver, for all he has "his back up" most of the time. Last evening he broke out of the stable, and ran 'round through the suburbs of our city, making a fine show.

Rev. G. P. Reiley has gone to Kansas

MOMENCE - 1881

Taken from the Kankakee Gazette, June 30, 1881.

Prof. Beebe, Miss Mina Beebe, Miss Ayres, Miss Wolcott and Miss Younger have been engaged as teachers of the Union school for next year.

Mr. Bastien of St. Anne, was in Grant Park last week getting posted in the creamery business. He claims that that branch of industry in St. Anne has been neglected and he intends to start a creamery in that place.

LEGAL TERMINOLOGY

Chattel - A term for personal property which is more comprehensive than goods as it can include animate as well as inanimate properties. All interests in real property which are less than a freehold estate - as a lease - are also considered chattel.

Dower - The lands and tenements to which a widow has claim (in life estate), after the death of her husband, for the support of herself and her children.

Quitrent - A rent paid by the tenant of a freehold estate which discharges him from any other obligation or rents, usually just a token payment. Under the feudal system, this was a payment to one's feudal superior in commutation of services.

Relict - The surviving spouse when one has died, husband or wife.

Surety - A person who makes himself liable for another person's debts or obligations should the first default.

Surrogate - In some states a judicial officer who has jurisdiction over probate matters, guardianships. etc.

Testator - A person who dies leaving a valid will in force at his death.

Tract - A lot, piece or parcel of land of any size.

"ACROSS THE POND" by Jim Birkenbell

Before you begin your research, you should be aware of what facts you need to know and where to find them. You need to know your immigrant ancestor's full, original name, given name as well as surname. This may be difficult because the American family may not be the same family name as their immigrant ancestor name. The spelling may be slightly different. Nevertheless, whatever your personal story may be, you must learn your immigrant ancestor's full name as it was used across the pond before you can begin your search. This information is needed because passenger lists were prepared in the port of embarkation before the ship sailed. Though some pursers may have transcribed each passenger's name from passports or other identification, it appears that often, pursers simply asked the passenger their name and wrote them on the lists as they sounded. He might simply do the best he could to spell unfamiliar names, especially French or German. Unschooled emigrants were unable to correct the transcription of their names. It is important to remember that women from France and Italy conducted matters under their maiden names.

You need to know the approximate age of your immigrant ancestor at the time he or she arrived. The information is necessary to distinguish him or her from other immigrants with the same name. To know where to begin your search, you must know the approximate date of your immigrant ancestor's arrival at the U.S. port. It could be pointless searching for your immigrant ancestor's ship until you have a good idea of these three facts: your ancestor's name, age at arrival, and date of arrival.

Some sources for this information might be, oral family traditions, personal and family documents, civil and church records, published genealogies and local histories.

There are two major periods of ship's passenger lists, those earlier than 1820 and those after 1820. 1565-1820 passenger lists might be archives, museums, courthouses, basements or attics. They were not preserved in the National Archives.

If your ancestors arrived between 1820 and 1954, a microfilm copy of the passenger list probably exists in the National Archives.

Here are a few web sites that may help.

PHOTOGRAPH FACTS

Post Cards: The common picture postcard can be a source of historical documentation. In the period from about 1910 to 1925, cameras were sold that took a postcard-sized image, and photographers provided prints on postcard stock, so there are many personal snapshot images from that period.

Paper Prints: The earliest paper prints were Calotypes, which used a paper negative. Albumen prints were introduced about 1850 and were widely used from 1860 to 1890.

Tintype: The tintype was introduced in 1856 and enjoyed widespread popularity until about 1900. The tintype gets its name from the fact that the image is produced on a thin metal plate. Like the Daguerrotype and Ambrotype, the emulsion was directly exposed in the camera, without any need for a negative, so the images are often unique. During the 1860's and 70's, small tintypes were often placed in CDV sized cardboard mounts.

KVGS MEETINGS & NEWS

The September program was on Finding Females Ancestors with guest speaker Sandra Hargreaves Luebking. This was a great program with much good information. The October program was on Dating Early Photographs Using Clothing & Hair Styles, presented by member Tammy Nietfeldt. The book this program was based on will be indexed and added to the collection this month. November will be a program on "Researching French Records in Alsace-Lorraine" with speaker Ardys Serpette.

Art Bertrand has donated more books to the collection including family data on the following families: Garvis, Blessing, Perrot/Perrault/Perreault, Dumas and LaGessee. Also included are French-Canadian church records for Saint-Jacques (Comte Montcalm), Saint Sulpice, St. Alexis, Ste-Julienne, Marie-Reine du Monde Rawdon and St-Roch-de-L'Achigan. We're in the process of moving some of the older magazines and periodicals to make room for these new books. Because of the very generous donations to the collection by both Art Bertrand and Leon Keller, the Board voted to make them Honorary Members.

Copies of the proposed revisions to the Constitution and Bylaws were distributed at the October Meeting. A vote will be taken at the November meeting. The Committee sign-up sheet was distributed at the October meeting for members to sign up for the many committees needing members. This list will be re-circulated at the November meeting and we ask anyone willing to help on these committees to contact either Marcia Stang or Nelda Ravens. November will be election of officers for next year and we remind all members there are many positions that need to be filled within the society. Please consider signing up for one of the committees!

A special thanks needs to be extended to Jim Birkenbeil, who donated two 2-drawer wood index card files to the society.

For all our newest members, please be sure to send in your ancestor charts so we can run them in the quarterly.

At the back of the quarterly you'll find information on our Christmas lunch. We hope to see you there. Don't forget to call Marcia or Nelda with your food selection.

YELLOWHEAD TOWNSHIP.

Yellowhead township, in the extreme north-eastern part of the county, is bounded on the north by Will county, on the east by Indiana, on the south by the township of 'Momence, and on the west by the township of Sumner. The name Yellowhead is that of a chief of the Pottawatomies, whose tribe had their village near the west point of the grove on the south side of the town, and whose burial ground was on the property of the late Jonathan P. Stratton.

John Smith, now living near Sherburnville, says: "I was quite young when I came here in 1835. I can well remember seeing the Indians, who were very friendly towards the white People. They occupied no particular section of the country, but would spend part of their time on the Kankakee river, in the vicinity of the present city of Momence. A few years before we came here, old Chief Yellowhead was killed by a young chief in; or near, the Stratton grove, and was buried there."

This township is composed of congressional township 32 N. R. 14 E. and fractional range 15 E., and extends seven miles east and west, and six miles north and south, containing in all twenty-seven thousand and eight hundred acres of land. Originally the southern portion was covered with an extensive growth of timber, which, since cleared off, has produced a finer quality of wheat than any other lands in the county. The elevation of this township above the sea level is greater than that of any other in the county. It is 711 feet at Sollitt, 697 feet at Grant Park, 632 feet at Momence and 624 feet at Kankakee. Chicago's greatest elevation is 592 feet above sea level.

The drainage is from the north, south to the Kankakee river by means of the Little Bull, Pike and Trim creeks, and their branches, which also supply an abundance of water for stock.

The soil is heavier than in many parts of the county, of good depth, dark loam, with clay subsoil, and very productive. The northern portion of the town is populated largely by Germans, who are among our sturdy and thrifty class, and who, while they seldom have land for sale, are ever ready to add to their already fine holdings.

EARLY SETTLERS.

Madison Collins is said to have been the first white man to settle in this township. He located at the east end of the grove where the village of Sherburnville now stands, in 1833. Closely following him were James Dickey, father of the venerable and much esteemed late Volney Dickey, who resided in the village of Grant Park; Dewitt Slaughter, John Hayhurst, and William Hayhurst, in 1834; Ansel E. V. and Daniel Britton, John and Wiltlam Smith, Peter Deerson, John Wilson in 1835. William Richardson, Elijah Andrews, William and Joseph Kirkpatrick, Egbert Ostrander, Con Squires, Luther Dalin and Adam Hamilton in 1835; Reason Kile came in 1837; Paul Hathaway, Walter and Wooster. Cleaver, John Hobbs and John and Archibald Morrison in 1838; Leslie Hatton, Elder Coffinberry, Jacob Dutcher, A. E. Dutton, Nathaniel Drayer, Andrew Hayden, James Bissett and Albert Waldrum in 1840; Daniel B. Stanley, Russel Seager, Zachariah and H. Hurley in 1842; Chauncey Campbell in 1843; Martin Sheridan, .Joel B. Lewis, Martin O'Brien, William Mellinger, Harlow Loomis, and William and Jonathan Stratton in 1844; Washington Allen, Dermot Jones, Edward Dyer. Henry Kile, Norman Messenger, Harmon Hill, Bluford Dulin in 1845; Dr. J. F. Mazuzan. Solon Bailey and Chesley Bailey in 1846; James Campbell, John Bennett and Samuel Willey in 1850; and Andrew Wheeler in 1853. All the early arrivals settled in the timber. and their nearest market was the unpromising town of Chicago..

The first postmaster was Jonathan P. Stratton, who established a postoffice February 24. 1853, at Yellowhead Grove. The Sherburnville postoffice was established March 20, 1857, with Henry Dodge as the first postmaster.

The first sermon preached in this town was by Archibald Morrison, a local preach-3r of the Methodist church, and the first religious society was organized in the fall of 1840, a local branch of the Christian church. Nathaniel Coffinberry was elder and preacher for this church for twenty-six years. Among its first members were John and William Hayhurst, and John Hibbs, and Ansel, Abiatha and David Britton, and Dewitt Slaughter and their wives. The first church was on the farm of Archibald Morrison in the southwest corner of the town. A Methodist church was built in 1845, the society having been organized in 1844, with the following trustees: Archibald Morrison, Russell Seager and Jonathan P. Stratton. The first regular minister was Rev. J. Luckenby.

The first school taught in this town was in a log cabin ten by twelve feet on the northeast quarter of section 26. In the winter of 1837-38 the teacher was Marquis French, whowas succeeded by Miss Eliza Hurley. Other schools were established as accommodations could be secured, using at one time a granary, and at another term a bed-room in the residence of Paul Hathaway.

The first schoolhouse was built at Sherburnville in 1847, at a cash outlay for glass and sash of $2.80, all the labor and other material being donated. Elder Coffinberry was the first teacher in this school. In these days all schools were supported by subscription. Dr. Mazuzan was the first resident physician.

The Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad was built through this town in 1871. the town voting aid to the amount of $18,000, and issued bonds, all of which have been paid. The road enters the town from the north about the half-section line of section five, diverging one-half mile to the west to the vilage of Grant Park, and thence south on the section line through the township. A second railway, the Chicago & Southern, is now in course of construction, paralleling the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, not quite two miles to the east.

The taxable property in this town for the year 1904 was as follows:

Real and personal property.....	$509,138
Chicago & Eastern Illinois R. R .....	' 59,777
Telegraph .....	280
Telephone .....	679
Total	$ 569.874

The names of those who have served as supervisors of this town are:
 Russell Seager, 1853; J. 13. Hamilton, 1854; Soloman Curtis, 1856; Russell Seager, 1857; Joel B. Lewis 1860; R. Richardson, 1864; John Bennett, 1865; J. B. Lewis, 1866; W. J. Stratton, 1868; J. B. Lewis, 1869; W. F. Keeney. 1870; Chas. Hoebet, 1872; C. C. Campbell, 1874; C. Hecht, 1877; J. Underwood, 1880; Alonzo Curtis, 1884; James Dickey, 1889; T. H. Dyer, 1894; George M. Bennett, 1898, to the present time.

SHERBURNVILLE.

The village of Sherburnville was the first settlement in the eastern part of the county. It was then in Cook county, and any business that had to be transacted at the county seat necessitated a trip to Chicago.

Jacob Dutcher is said to have been the first storekeeper, but he soon afterward had competition in A. E. Dutton. Then followed a blacksmith shop, churches and schools. From the first Sherburnville prospered, and considerable business was transacted here up to the time of the building of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad in 1871. Since then the village of Grant Park has taken most of the trade.

GRANT PARK.

This village is on the line of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad, near the center of the west part of the township, and is about forty-five miles south of Chicago. It has a population of about five hundred and fifty.

The country tributary is fertile and settled with enterprising and well to do citizens.

At the present the village has three banks. The Grant Park National bank, organized in 1898, with a capital stock of $50,000, has the following officers: Fred Holzman, president; H. P. Messenger, vice-president; Edward C. Curtis, cashier; Cass J. Hayden, assistant cashier; and Julia Bissett, teller; Charles B. Campbell is the bank's attorney.

The State Savings bank, of Grant Park, has a capital stock of $25,000, with the same officers as the Grant Park National.

The third bank is a private one, of which Henry Kramer is the president. It has a capital stock of $25,000.

Other business enterprises which enter into the personnel of the business life of this village are the Holzman-Bennett Grain Company, Streeter Kallgren Lumber Company, and the Teverbaugh, Bothfur Mercantile Company, each capitalized at $10,000. The Alonzo Curtis Brick Company, incorporated with a capital stock of $100,000, is equipped with the best machinery known for the manufacture of brick, and has a capacity of 250,000 brick a day. The present officers are V. S. Curtis, president; W. C. Curtis, vice-president and secretary; L. C. Streeter, treasurer, and W. C. Campbell, general sales-agent. The plant employs about one hundred and fifty men and adds much to the thrift and general business of the community. In the last eight months 27,000,000 brick were shipped to different parts of the county.

The other enterprises of the village include Peter Engel], Ehler Brothers and Henry Wilkin, each carrying a stock of general merchandise valued at from $15,000 to $20,000; Henry Kramer, hardware; B. W. Brown, drugs; George W. Van Horne, physician; Herbert Wheeler, physician; R. B. Von der Smith, restaurant; Captain Summers, hotel; W. Maltharn, livery and feed; Ausenbaum & Son, general saddlery; O. L. Olson, hotel; Harry Graham, shoemaker; William Brand, blacksmith; Mrs. Turner, millinery; Hayden & Nusbaum, meat market; H. Dege, meat market; John Ashline, barber; Dr. Harold T. Freeman, dentist; F. IV. Read, manager Independent Telephone System; E. H. Messenger, furniture; John Kramer, general store; John R. Hanlon, editor, Grant Park Anchor; and E. H. Buck, notary public.

SUMNER TOWNSHIP.

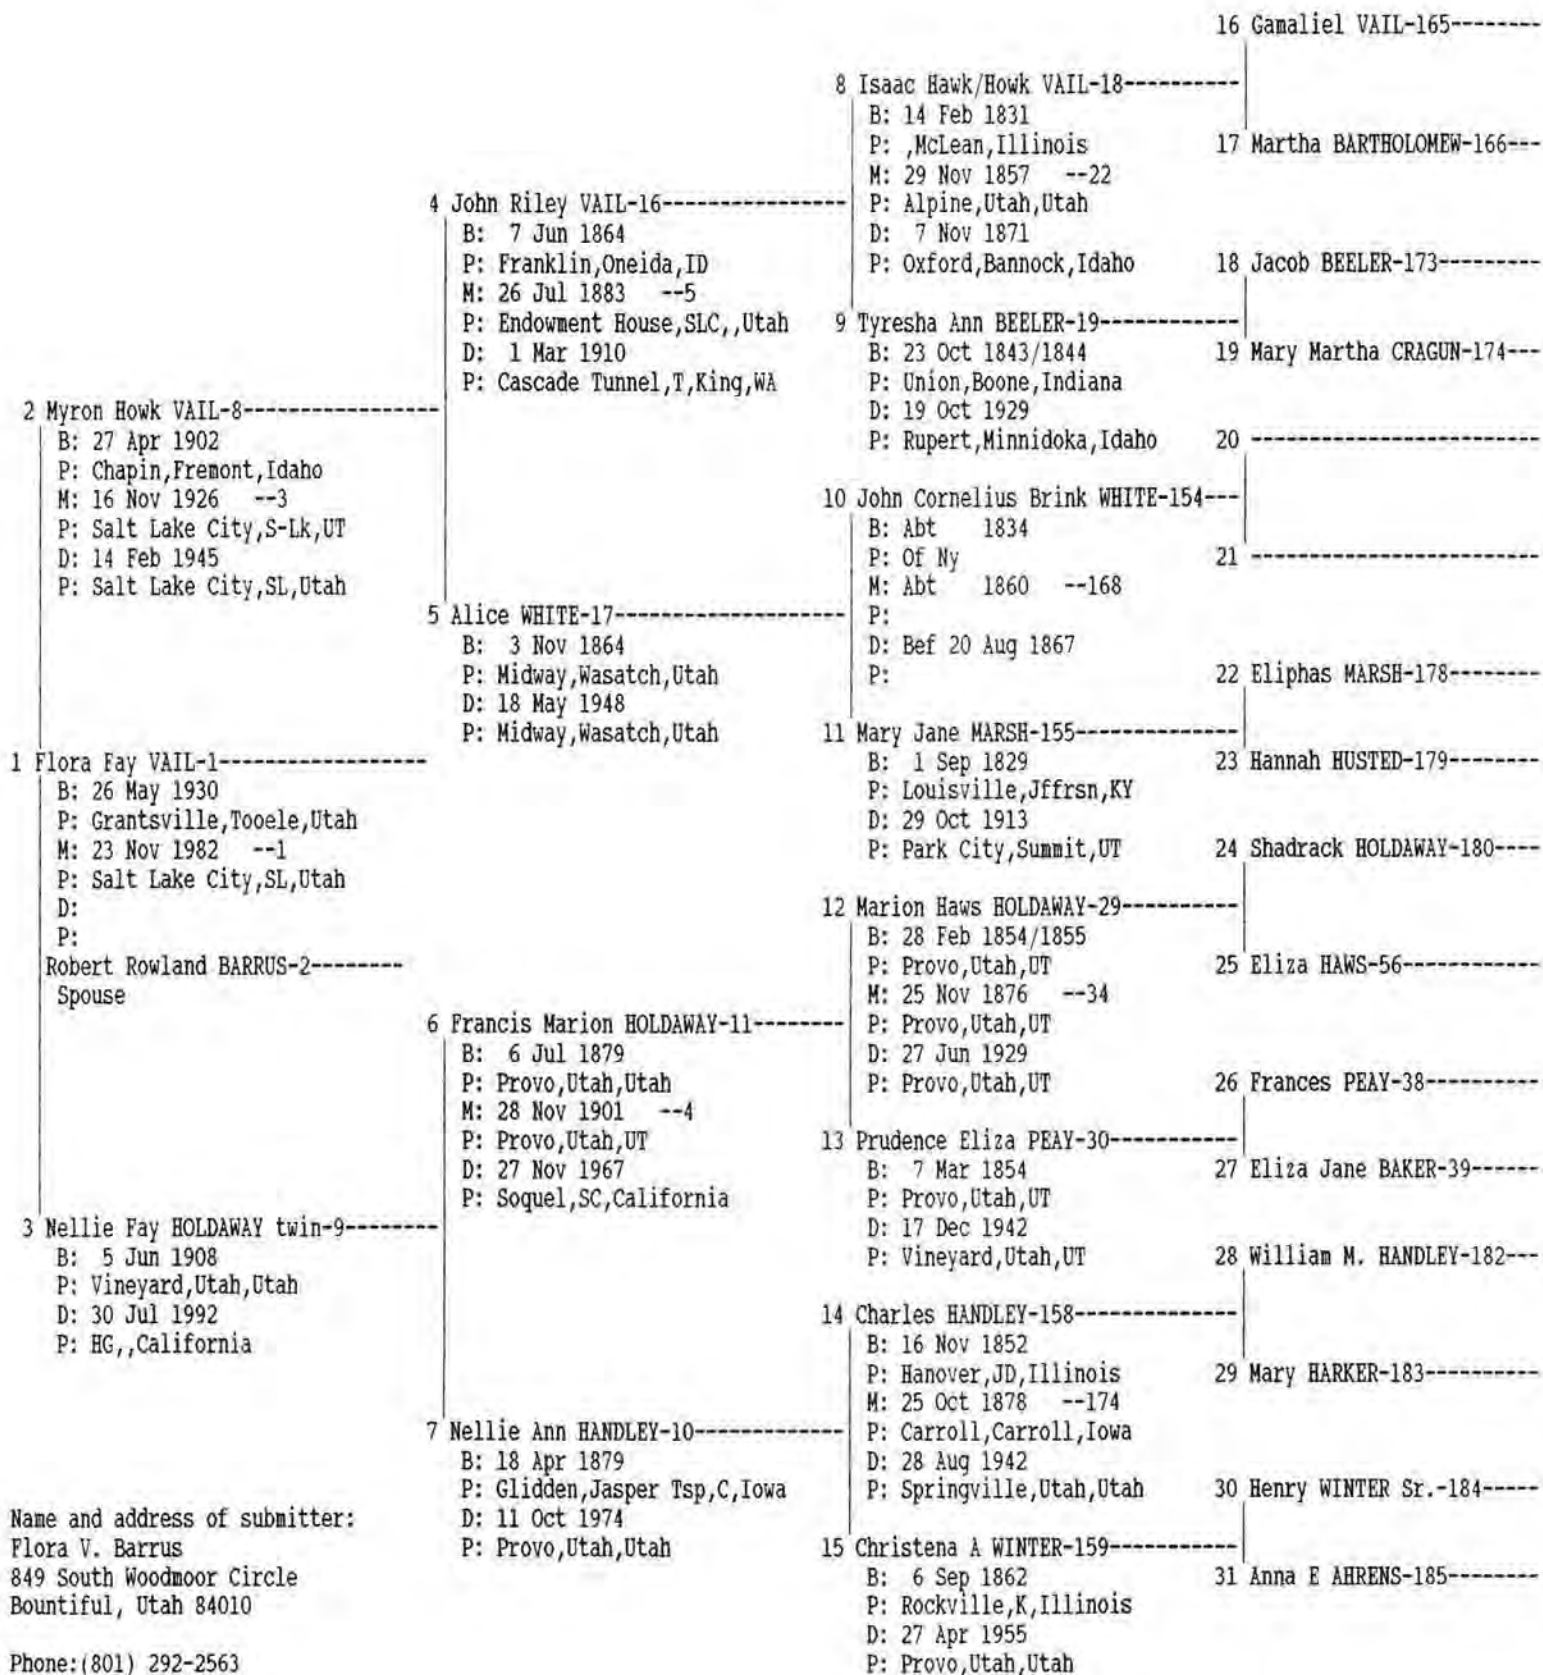

(By William Little.)

September 10, 1855, township 32, range 13. was, on petition, taken from Momence township and organized by the board of supervisors as a civil township, and named Union. June 27, 1856, on motion of Supervisor John Kile, first supervisor of said township, the name was changed to Sumner. At the town meeting preceeding, E. H. Buck and James McKinstry, still living, claimed the honor of suggesting the name of Sumner. Both were eastern men, and admirers of the great Massachusetts senator, who had so recently been assaulted in the senate. In truth, all our early townsmen seem to have been admirers of Mr. Sumner, as the name was adopted without opposition. Thus, early in its governmental existence this township was honored by the name of one of the most illustrious champions of American liberty. And we are inclined to believe, after a residence of over forty years within its borders, that the character of its great namesake, has in a measure, moulded our history and shaped our destiny. In all these years no public official has betrayed his trust. With rare exceptions its officials have been capable and honest, respecting themselves, their constituents and the public weal. The public records show fewer cases in court, and fewer of those petty local controversies which divide friends and neighbors, than almost any other township of the county. The township is an even six
